Mayor vetoes proposed budget

By HENRY CANTIN

A council-approved 1971-72 operating budget for the City of Romulus has been vetoed by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The mayor's veto, the first since his election in May, 1970, came within 72 hours of City Council's approval of the budget.

The council has the power to override the mayor's veto, but such action is unlikely, since the charter requires a two-thirds majority vote, in this case 5 members voting to override, in order to do so. Only four members were in favor of the budget when it passed Friday, a day before the deadline.

In vetoing it, Mayor Carmichael said, "The budget doesn't provide sufficient funds with which to continue the business of the city for the fiscal 1971-72 year."

The mayor disclosed that numerous recommendations made to the council by him were completely ignored by the council members.

Councilmen James C. Stewart, William M. Oakley and Fred Junior Block voted against the proposed budget. Councilmen Ellis T. Pennington, Edmund Bizek, Brooker T. Edwards and Council President Jimmie Raspberry voted in favor.

Stewart, in opposing it, said that he felt that it was not a proper budget, that is was wasteful in certain areas and lacking funds in other areas. He reported that his two colleagues felt the same.

The budget must now go back to the council for further consideration.

At last Friday's session, a motion made by Oakley to have the city hire an Industrial Coordinator-Planner to meet requirements of the city charter failed. He was supported by Stewart. Voting against the motion were Raspberry, Pennington, Bizek and Edwards. Councilman Block supported the motion.

The city charter requires the council to set up a Department of Planning. The city has at present an industrial coordinator and Oakley's motion would combine both under the present coordinator Charles W. Hazen.

The proposed budget as approved by the council was a balanced budget in the amount of $2,261,849. It provided for an increase of .8 tenths of a mill, or 80 cents per $1,000 property valuation, state equalized.

Based on an approximate 92 percent tax collections, this would bring additional revenue of $125,928, or a total of $748,252, during the new fiscal year. The city has a carry-over from last year's operating budget of $110,000.

Under the council-approved budget, the current city tax levy of 4.40 mills would be hiked to 5.20 mills per $1000 of property assessed valuation, state equalized.

The current total city tax is 11.50 mills. This would be increased to 12.30 under the proposed budget, with 5.20 mills used for operating, 4.10 mills for sewer and 3 mills for water.

Included in the 5.20 mill levy is .4 tenths of mill for Romulus' share in the operation of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA.)

BROWNING A BLAZE - Romulus volunteer fire fighters fought for two hours Monday afternoon to extinguish this blaze at 35487 Vinewood. The lone occupant, Elmer Copeland, 71, was not at home at the time of the fire, which officials say began in the kitchen. The house was completely gutted.

Commissioners may act on city-county pact

By HENRY CANTIN

A decision may be handed down this week by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners on a 24-hour law enforcement contract made between the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the City of Romulus.

The City Council of Romulus issued a May 20 deadline ultimatum to the sheriff's department at its May 4 council meeting.

Members of city council had voiced strong protests on waiting five months for some action on the five-year law enforcement contract.

The proposed contract that has a initial first year cost of $348,000, is scheduled to be considered this week by the Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee of the county board of commissioners.

The council's ultimatum was that "if some action is not forthcoming by May 20 that the City of Romulus would begin to develop its own police department and not enter into a contract with the county."

Following the signing of the police service contract by the city and county sheriff five months ago, the Romulus Police Association, sole bargaining agent for the present Romulus Police Department, initiated suit in Wayne County Circuit Court seeking dismissal of the contract.

It is expected that the county committee will make its recommendation to the full Board of Commissioners this week.

Under the city-approved contract, present members of the police force of Romulus (10 in number) would be transferred to the sheriff department with all of their seniority and rights protected under the contract.

Last December, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners ordered a careful study of the contract provisions since the contract was to be a model for future agreements.

The commissioners referred the proposed contract to three country agencies for analysis and recommendations, the board of Auditors, the Civil Service Commission, and the Wayne County Prosecutor as legal advisor to the board.

No official action has been reported since resulted in the May 4 action by Romulus Council members.

Twelve file for post positions on Huron Board of Education

The Huron Township School District's annual school election scheduled June 10 will see 10 candidates vying for five school board positions.

The 10 Huron School District residents filed their nominating petitions before the 4 p.m. deadline on Monday.

Residential groups in the school district have been in a considerable amount of pro and controversy on the operation of the school district during last several weeks.

Three members of the school board were called in a special election held March 29. And present officers of the current school board, including the school superintendent, have been named defendants in a civil court proceedings involving the teaching of sex education in the school system.

Voters will be asked to fill two four-year terms, two three year terms and one year term on the school board.

Those seeking the four-year terms are incumbents Louis C. Larabell Jr., 28851 West Road, New Boston, current school board vice president; Mrs. Jean E. Richert, 19270 Hannan Rd. present school board secretary; Ross E. McLean, 19407 Savage Rd. Belleville; and Mrs. Helen Harby, 21894 Bell, New Boston.

Those who filed for the three-year terms are James W. Pershing, 19611 Clark Rd., Belleville; Lincoln W. Ward II, of 23883 Clark Rd., Belleville; Joseph S. Majtyka, 28470 Haggerty Rd., New Boston; and John E. Puskar 26880 Romine, New Boston.

Those who are seeking the one-year term are: Olaf McDavid, 30362 West Road, Flat Rock, and Lee Betz, 19031 Savage Rd., Belleville.

Members of the school board recalled were Mrs. Howard (Mildred) Bennett, of 28111 Brandes, Flat Rock, who had a year to go on her four-year term; and Mrs. Erma Palmiter, 32150 Prescott, Romulus and Harry Hartsuff, 21850 Bell Rd., New Boston, both of whom served one year of the four-year terms.

Of the three interim appointment to the school board made by the Board of Education following the recall election only one (Betz) has decided to seek election.

The others appointed were William F. Mittlestat, 23886 Merriman Rd., Flat Rock; and Elwood E. Krzyske, 28225 Waltz Rd., New Boston.

Rhoads leaves ward; whereabouts unknown

Douglas C. Rhoads, 29, whose second resignation as Huron Township supervisor has been officially accepted by the Huron Township Board of Trustees May 7, has again disappeared.

Rhoads, who upon request of his father, Ecorse Municipal Judge Carl Rhoads, was admitted to Wayne County General Hospital for observation May 10, walked out of the psychiatric unit of the hospital last Thursday night.

Patients are in a closed ward and are allowed to keep their clothes. At the 11 p.m. bed check, Rhoads was absent. It is believed that when visitors departed, Rhoads apparently did too.

His wife, Susan, reported Tuesday that her husband visited her last Sunday and left. His present whereabouts are unknown to her or members of the family, she stated.

On May 7, the Huron Township Board unanimously accepted Rhoads' resignation and appointed Township Clerk George W. Moore as acting supervisor until the board makes an appointment or until an election is held.

Rhoads has claimed the resignation mailed to the township clerk by his wife is illegal. Mrs. Rhoads contends that her husband ordered her to mail the resignation which was signed by Rhoads.

The young supervisor's first resignation was withdrawn after his return last March from a 27-day disappearance.

Music scholarship plan extension in the works

An extension of the Romulus High School Music Scholarship Program has been announced.

The program was initiated by Mrs. Jean Ward Williams, Romulus School Teacher, in 1969.

The funds of the program are used to permit those students who show exceptional aptitude - but lack the funds - to attend summer music camps. These camps, will hopefully be of the caliber of Interlochen, Michigan State and Eastern Michigan University music camps.

One of the main purposes is to instill an enthusiasm for quality music and to expand to student's musical experience.

The program can not be funded by public monies, reports a three member funding committee of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Blondell Butler and Gene E. Mulberry, all of Romulus.

Romulus has not been an area that has shown an interest in quality music in its school system, the committee reported. In spite of this lack of interest by the total community, there have been a few fine musicians from this area, the committee added.

"It is our desire to increase the number of students involved by having those students who attend music camps return and build enthusiasm in their classmates," said the committee.

The Funding Committee is asking the commercial community to assist them in order to maintain the growth of this fund.

Some of the young musicians will be displaying their talents on May 22, when they present an "Evening of Beautiful Music" at the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium located at 9650 S. Wayne Rd.

Tickets can be procured from any high school student or from Mrs. Williams's class at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. Tickets at the door will be $1.25

Districts accepts study of vocation education

The final report of the Occupational Education Advisory Committee Study has been approved by the Wayne County Intermediate School District Board of Education.

The committee has recommended the initial establishment of four Area Occupational Centers in Wayne County with space for approximately 10,500 students in vocational-technical programs. The centers would also be available for adult education and community college programs.

The final reports are now in the process of being reviewed by local boards of education. The sub-committee reports include: Master Plan, Manpower Needs, Public Information, Finance, and Curriculum and Occupational Guidance.

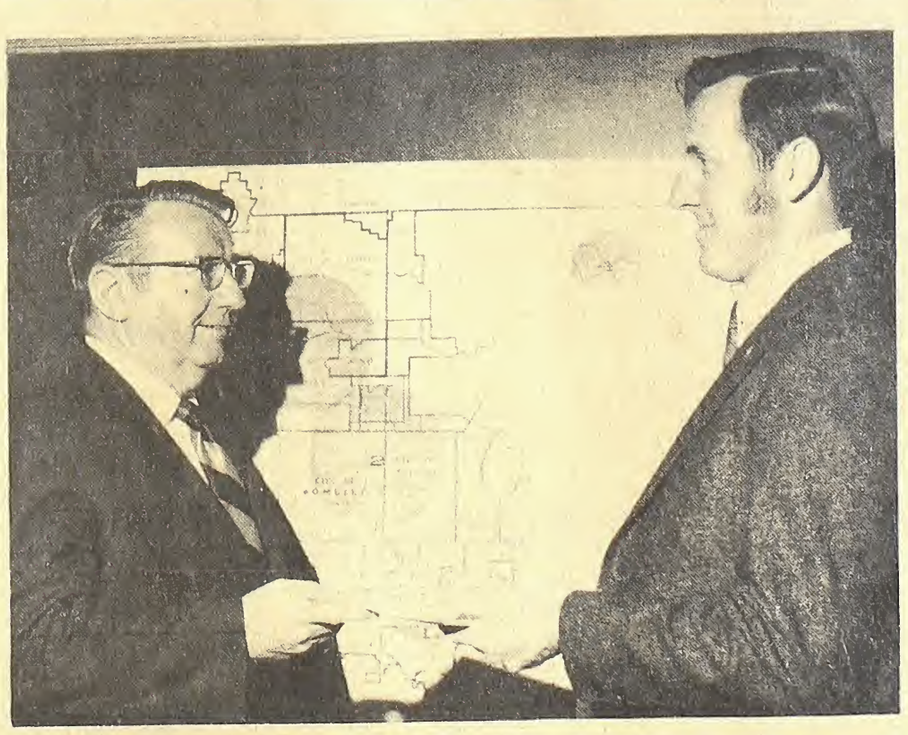
The Romulus Board of Education has already accepted and adopted the final study on Occupational Education for Wayne County.

The comprehensive study of occupational needs and programs was completed by a committee of 100 members composed of citizens and educators from Wayne County. Donald Leverenz, Occupational Education Consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, is the Project Director of the study, assisted by Gerald Matthews of the Intermediate staff. An Executive Board directed and coordinated the study.

Casl W. Morris, Romulus Board of Education member, as well as president of the Wayne County School Board Association, acted as co-chairman of the executive board.

John P. Ford, Belleville High School Principal, also served on the Executive Board. Robert L. McConeghy, superintendent of Romulus Township School District, served as a member of the Master Plan Committee. Gerald Budd and Ronald Christensen, Romulus Board of Education members, served on the Curriculum and Occupational Guidance Committee, along with James Sayre and Chauncey Schweigert of the Van Buren Board of Education.

Jerald Griess, a citizen of Belleville, and a staff member of Eastern Michigan University served on the Curriculum and Occupatonal Guidance Committee.



RECEIVES FINAL REPORT - Carl W. Morris (left) Romulus Board of Education member and president of the Wayne County School Board Association, received the final report of the Occupational Education Advisory Committee Study from Project Director Donald Leverenz, Occupational Education consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District. The final report has been adopted by the Romulus board. Morris acted as co-chairman of the executive board that directed and coordinated the study.

Plaintiffs refuse to testify

Initiators of a Wayne County Circuit Court Suit against the Huron School District over an alleged sex education program have refused to testify last Thursday afternoon on the grounds that their attorney was not present.

Mrs. Olaf McDavid, whose husband is seeking election to the Board of Education in June, Mrs. Pat Wiseley, Mrs. Pat Pearson, and Mrs. Harry Hartsuff appeared at the Board of Education office under court order for the taking of depositions but would not answer questions, School Superintendent Byron K. Antcliff disclosed Monday.

Crowds insure successful fairs

PTA fairs drew large crowds in the elementary schools in Romulus on Saturday.

Parents and kids turned out in record numbers due to warm weather and the exciting events that lured customers from neighboring subdivisions at Cory Elementary, located on Smith Rd. and Harrison Elementary on Harrison Rd. near Eureka Rd.

Mrs. Tressa Rhode and fair chairman Jan Justice reported that Harrison's Moon Walk was a big hit. Cory's chairman Mrs. Carole Rodd kept busy overseeing some twenty events and games. Food was cheap and tasty at both events.

Romulus police win applause

Police Chief Donald Loose of Dearborn Heights has submitted a letter of appreciation to Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch for the cooperative assistance of the Romulus Police Department in a raid on a private dwelling at 3996 West Point, Dearborn Heights May 2.

The letter, brought to the attention of Romulus City Council, said in part, "The amount of persons present at this location were many more than we had anticipated. After exhausting all available manpower, we were unable to control the situation. Without the assistance of your department and other surrounding departments, we would have been unable to effect arrests and control the crowds.

"Your department in its response with manpower and equipment was most welcome and reassurring."

Science Club accepts high school challenges

Several months ago several students at Romulus Senior High School met to form what is now the Romulus Science Club.

From modest beginning, it has grown to a body of about seventeen active members whose enthusiasm and salesmanship are quite well known throughout the entire school.

The original intention of the club was to be of service to the school and its student body, and it has lived up to these goals.

With funds from its many donut sales (which are held on Wednesdays), the membership of the club purchased a Japanese Cherry Tree to plant in the barren courtyard of the senior high. The club has also purchased several books for the library being started by the high School Science Department.

The many activities of the club, including sponsorships of trips (like the trip to the Cranbrook Institute of Science on May 17) which otherwise would not be possible due to lack of funds at the school, are all overshadowed by one major function: this club has decided to award financial assistance to deserving students who have performed well in their science courses at the school.

One or more seniors this year will receive scholarship monies from the newly-formed Romulus Science Club to help them finance a college education.

While the amount will be relatively small this year, there is hope among the membership that money will be more plentiful for this project next year when they will have all year to raise it. The awards will be made based upon scholastic ability and financial need.

The people of Romulus can help this organization reach its goal of service to the community. The Club has scheduled a "checkered elephant" (usually called a white elephant) sale for Saturday (May 22) to be held in the front parking lot of the high school from noon to 6 p.m. Persons may call to donate used articles (no clothes or food) from 9 a.m. til 3 p.m. at 941-2170 ext. 70.

In addition to the Checkered Elephant Sale this Saturday, the members of the Romulus Science Club are also accepting direct donations to their scholarship fund.

For every donation of fifty cents donors will receive, if they desire, one ticket in a drawing on a 19-inch portable television.

Ten vying for Romulus seats

The annual school board election in the Romulus Community School District, to be held on June 14, has attracted 10 candidates.

Nominating petitions of the 10 Romulus area residents were filed with the Board of Education by the 4 p.m. deadline Monday.

The school district's voters will be asked to fill two school board posts and approve a $12 million school building bond issue.

The school board terms are one for four years and a one year term.

The short term is the unexpired portion of a four-year term of William M. Oakley who resigned from the school board to retain his seat on the Romulus City Council.

Oakley's replacement on the school board is seeking a full four-year term in the June election.

The candidates filing for the four-year term are:

Andrew Lopota, 6711 Merriman Rd.; Arthur Gregory, 35784 N. Park Place; Charles R. Kline, 30282 Cherry Ave.; Gordon C. Silvey, 36831 Porter; Mrs. Diane L. Boger, 9469 Essex; Franklin Filkins, 6887 Ball Rd. now serving by virtue of a school board appointment.

The candidates seeking the one-year term are:

Incumbent Gervazie Canejo, 16321 Dodge, whose four-term expires this June; Mrs. Dorothy R. Phenix, 6031 S. Wayne Rd.; Hulen Yates, 15555 Colbert; and David D. Delozier, 35700 Garner.

Contract negotiations continue in Romulus

Negotiations on a new employment contract for teachers of the Romulus Community Schools will continue on May 25, Assistant School Superintendent William E. Jakad announced Monday.

Contract talks between the Romulus Board of Education negotiators and Romulus Education Association representatives were initiated in March 10.

The current agreement between the school board and the teachers expire on Aug. 15.

The negotiators for both the shool board and the association are seeking to develop a Master Agreement for the 1971-72 school year.

The negotiating team representing the school board includes Jakad, Robert Vercrusse, the school district's labor relations counsel, and an alternating member from among the school principals.

The REA team is composed of Richard Kahle, junior high school instructor; John Domas, junior high counselor; Mrs. Margaret Ross, teacher; and Maurice Hart, Michigan Education Association area director.

Alarm system being studied

A detailed report on the installation of an alarm system for the Romulus Community School District has been taken under advisement by the Romulus Board of Education for study and evaluation.

The report was submitted to the school board at its May 10 meeting by representatives of the American Security Alarm Systems.

The firm's representatives outlined the basic sketch of the typical system for all schools to limit mobility of entry, suggesting photo-cell protection in the hallway areas, strategically located and recessed into the walls and using infra-red detectors which cannot be activated by any exterior force.

The firm suggested that the high school utilize room system during the week since the building is partially occupied 24 hours a day; and rooms and corridors be covered during weekends.

The cost of the system as detailed would be $34,970.

The system would be guaranteed and serviced for one year.

Service cost afterwards would be $27.50 per building per month.

Thrift shop planning weekend rummage sale

The "Helping Hand Thrift Shop", located in the basement of the Special Services Building (the old Cory School) 7335 Washington St. will hold a Rummage Sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 20, 21, 22.

The Romulus PTA is assisting the ladies by requesting the donations of clothing, small furniture, dishes and jewelry. Mrs. Gloria Chandler will be the laison between the PTA and Thrift Shop.

The purpose of the Rummage Sale is two-fold: to help pay expenses of operating the Thrift Shop and to provide the opportunity some families would like to purchase the items rather than ask for the referral slips.

Any group which would like to work in cooperation with the Thrift Shop and get involved with this very worthwhile project is welcome to do so. Churches and service organizations are invited to call if they are interested in helping.

In the past year the Thrift Shop distributed some 12,000 articles. New materials are badly needed at this time to be used in making new items of wearing apparel.

Odds and ends of new sewing materials are needed by the ladies at the Thrift Shop to sew baby layettes and the like.

Headstart youngsters gaining from program

Twenty children who have started classes in the Romulus Community Schools Headstart Program, have begun to have some of the experiences that will help them to make a better adjustment when they start to kindergarten this fall.

The boys and girls meet daily, Monday through Friday, at the United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St., Romulus, with their teacher, Mrs. Vernora Hinkle and Para Professionals Mrs. Carolyn Jesko, Mrs. Dixman and Miss Joyce Keith.

The eight week program will be completed on June 25.

Mayor returns budget proposal

The school tax in the city is set presently at 30.67 mills and the county tax assessment is set at 7.16 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

The proposed new budget provided for salary hikes for three departments heads: chief building inspector from $11,900 to $12,700; city assessor from $11,000 to $11,800; and DPW director from $11,960 to $12,760.

The budget was silenced on city employe salaries since the council is scheduled to entered into negotiations with Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County & Municipal Workers union this week. The city employe contract expired April 19.

The council also approved separate operating budgets for the Water and Sewer Department for the year starting April 1, and ending March. 31, 1972. For the first time there are separate budgets for Local Streets and Mayor Streets Maintenance and relative to Fixed Assets.

This year is the first year for the City of Romulus to consider budgets for its streets and roads. Prior to city incorporation, the county maintained the road program.

The total overall budget for the city amounted to $6,062,885 prior to the mayor's veto.

Last year's budget which did not include local streets and major roads maintenance totaled $3,642,451.

The city's operating budget for the last fiscal year (1970-71) was $1,570,460.

School negotiation planned

Requests for salary and fringe improvements have been presented to the Romulus Board of Education by Local 64 of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy reported Monday.

Local 64 represents the maintenance, clerical, custodial, transportation and cafeteria personnel of the school district.

The local currently holds a three year contract with the school board which provides for salary and fringe benefits to be reconsidered each year.

McConeghy reported that he will schedule an early date for negotiations.

Special pick-ups scheduled

Special rubbish pick-ups will be made during the months of June in the City of Romulus, Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk, announced Monday.

The collections will be made on the regular days scheduled currently in the five residential areas of the community.

The special pick-ups are strickly for household items too large for the normal weekly pick-up, Folmar said.

No building materials, tires, auto parts or auto bodies will be collected, he added.

Flags don't wave any more for GIs

AND THE BANDS DON'T MEET THE SHIPS; but the sick and disabled man returning from Vietnam has given just as much as his dad did in World War II.

Maybe he's given a little more.

In addition to his health, his strength, and his earning capacity, he's lost some of his confidence in his fellow citizen. If a little lump of bitterness is added to his other aches and pains, who can blame him?

Thousands of young men are bedfast for life; others are destined to spend the rest of their days in wheel chairs or on crutches—as the result of a war they didn't start and in a cause they haven't fully understood. Many more have found themselves handicapped in adjusting to the challenges of a civilian life which has passed them by.

A grateful government has provided hospitalization where needed and some compensation where impaired earning power can be proven, but no government, no matter how well meaning, can provide the personal touch and the individual understanding that staves off despair.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is pledged to serve the disabled and needy veteran and to aid and comfort his dependents. Combat veterans themselves, the members of the V.F.W. (and the wifes, mothers, sisters and daughters who make up its Ladies Auxiliary) have met the challenge by lending a helping hand in the battle against doubt, boredom, bitterness and despair. In Veterans Hospitals, at the seats of government, and in the community, you will find V.F.W. raises most of its money from its own members, the public is offered an opportunity to help by the purchase of a Buddy Poppy during the annual sale.

When a V.F.W. volunteer offers a Poppy, please contribute generously. Your help will go a long way toward smoothing the path of a deserving young man.

Mobile home law gets wide support

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK STATE REPRESENTATIVE 38th DISTRICT

The House has overwhelmingly approved my bill to give occupants in Mobile Home Parks the same rights as tenants in rented housing. The vote was 89 to 5. The bill is now under consideration in the Senate.

It has been a busy time in the House, with the movement of a number of important pieces of legislation. These include approval of state-controlled off-track betting and passage of a measure which grants 18, 19 and 20-Year-Olds the legal status of adults.

I had for some time sought passage of the "Bill of Rights" for Mobile Home Park residents. Those who rent sites in such parks presently have restricted rights in their tenant-Landlord relationship.

The bill would require that mobile home park owners keep their premises in reasonable repair and in compliance with health and safety laws. This would provide new statutory rights to owners of mobile homes who rent space in trailer parks. It gives them the same rights as persons who rent other types of residential premises.

I had introduced a similar bill in the last session of the Legislature. This time, however, it was reported out by the House Public Health Committee with the recommendation that it be passed.

I was encouraged to introduce this legislation because of numerous complaints I have received in the district. Those complaints, which I felt justified, were centered on the fact that the trailer coach act which went into effect in 1960 is a very broad, loosely drawn piece of legislation which does not fully meet the needs or protect the rights of our growing population of mobile home owners.

The purpose of my bill was to modernize the old act and to solidify the rights of mobile home park dwellers.

The off-track betting bill, also now in the hands of the Senate, passed by a close 58-43 vote (56 votes are needed to pass a bill in the House) after it was defeated in any earlier test.

The big selling point on the bill was that it would bring in millions of dollars of revenue to the State. This is a particularly attractive argument in these times when the state treasury is so low.

The bill would establish an initial six state-controlled off-track betting agencies, with provisions to permit additional agencies later as they are sought by local communities. The Horse race bets could be taken both over the telephone and at the agency. The system would be run by a computer.

The state would receive eight per cent of the betting take, less costs of operation. Local units of government where the track is located would get a four per cent and the track where the race is run would receive three per cent.

The so-called "Age of Majority" Bill passed easily by a 73 vote to 30 vote despite the fact that it would lower the drinking age to 18 years in Michigan. This was the controversial point of the bill. There were efforts to delete the drinking provision from the bill, but they were defeated.

Basically, the bill is an omnibus revision of laws which define the legal distinctions between minors and adults. The present legal line is 21 years old. The bill covers a wide range of legal points, such as the ability to make contracts, acquire debts, make wills and serve on juries.

The bill does not go into the voting age. However, voting rights would come automatically to 18,19 and 20-year-olds in Michigan if 38 States ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution which would lower the voting age to 18 nationally in all elections. (At least count, the amendment had been ratified by 26 states.)

Committee takes shots at school heads again

To the editor:

Disbelief and much anger was prevalent after the June, 1970 elections to the point that this remark was made to a group of citizens: "We'll show you people in this town where the power is."

This statement, although made several months ago, was proven to be true as the so called power in this township has been busily and viciously undoing and usurping every thing and every one that the citizens in the township voted for.

Is it a coincidence that Mr. Ward, and Mrs. Pershing, who lost out in last June's school election, are the same ones who initiated the recall of their winning opponents, and that they are now again running for positions on the school board this June?

And what of the registration notice that Mrs. Richert had put in the paper informing 18-year-olds that they will be eligible to vote in the next June election? Isn't it true that the 18-year-old vote, as yet, has not been ratified by all 38 states?

Again we find that only half-truths have been submitted to the news media. For instance: the four Mothers (who initiated a court suit over Sex Education in the schools) were not notified as they were previously by registered letter that there was to be an April 9 deposition. Also the school's attorney was notified not only by mail, but also by phone that Mr. Larry Davidow could not attend the May 13 deposition as he was tied up in another court case in Howell, Mich.

It should be understandable that the mothers could not give testimony without legal representation on this date, yet school Attorney Mr. Thomas Nordberg and a court recorder made the trip all the way from Lansing. Is it also the whim of the defendents to waste the tax payers money? Or just another way of seeking publicity to further confuse the people.

Mr. Byron K. Antcliff, School superintendent, maintains we are not in deficit funding, yet according to Senator William Faust, this school district is.

We were in deficit funding several months ago, and as each fiscal period goes by we slip further into deficit funding.

The high teacher's wages, plus the college credit tuition fees we are paying to further the teachers education, have only added to this bleak picture.

Granted the school district did pay back the $100,000 loan but they immediately borrowed another $150,000. Isn't this sort of "Robbing Peter to pay Paul?"

While the voter in Huron Township has been spoon-fed half truths and juicy gossip, he is sitting on his hands and allowing our district to go bankrupt.

From the publicity hounds sitting on our school board you will see denials of these accusations in print, but go out of the township to get the whole truth instead of the half-truth fed to you.

Contact your state representative or Senator Faust.

To you, Mayor Norton, reader says, 'Right on'

To the editor,

Nice to see our Mayor is so ecology minded.

The other day I observed Mayor Pat Norton at a local market purchasing non-phosphate detergents and white bathroom tissue.

At the same time he was lecturing the store manager on the hazards of the phosphate detergents and colored tissues to our natural resources, and told him that these items should be removed from the markets shelves.

To you, Mayor Norton, I say "right on!"

25 YEARS AGO

May 19, 1947 — Twenty-five friends and relatives attended a celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford See of 6260 Heyer road in honor of the 84th birthday of Rufus See, Mr. See's grandfather, who resides at 4319 Woodward avenue.

See, who was born on Van Born road, near Wayne, in 1872, has been a local resident all of his life and is the father of two children, Miss Florence See and Elmer See of Walled Lake.

Pvt. William E. Russell of Wayne is stationed at Geiger Field, Spokane, Wash., as an aviation engineer with the Army Air Force, it was announced by colonel Eric Dougan, commanding officer.

Upon completion of his training, Pvt. Russell will probably be assigned to an Aviation Engineer unit. These units are an integral part of the Army Air Force and have as their mission the performance of all engineer work needed by the Air Force in all theaters of operations.

According to Harry Ranch, director of the recreation softball league, brownout regulations will remain in effect at Eloise until the nation-wide coal issue is settled. Ranch said that because of the numerous fields which will soon be available, the regular schedule could still be played.

The season's roster plainly shows the Fordson Bar squad hottest on the list, with the Village Coffee Shop close behind. Last year's champs, Austin Oil, have simmered some this year and consequently lost their first start. However, the season is just beginning and any one of the 30 different teams in both leagues still have ample opportunity to capture a league title.

15 YEARS AGO

May 19, 1956 — Mrs. Kenneth Gremore felt that she could bring added education and recreational facilities to her pre-school child by enrolling her in the Wayne Cooperative nursery.

She did, became enthusiastic about the project, and is now president of the Nursery.

This is not a fish story because we've got a picture to prove it, said a pair of bow fishermen.

Trying their luck in Gay's Bar near Rockwood, Alex Vezane, owner of the Lynx Archery, and Robert Geno of Wayne brought home a pair of lunkers.

The carp were monsters that weighed 33 and 22 pounds. The larger specimen measured 40 inches.

Bringing in the big carp, the gaff-hook came loose and the fish splashed head-long into the water, but the fishermen were not to be denied. Alex Vezane jumped in and almost strangled the huge carp while thrashing around in the water.

The dunking was not wasted, for the fish was dumped into the boat never to see water again.

Chalk up number three in a row. That's exactly how the scorecard reads in Inkster's favor for its efforts in the Michigan Track Finals.

This one ended at the wire with St. Louis breathing hot and heavy down the Vikings' necks. Inkster squeezed in ahead of St. Louis by one point.

Old reliables of the 880-yard relay team did the trick and notched the six points needed to shade St. Louis, 33-32.

In winning the event and the meet, the sparkplugs of the squad, Charles Bond, Charles Kyser, Charles Calloway and William Wyatt, set a new record.

Teenage Tattler — We hear that Noreen Brown was given a surprise birthday party. She sure was surprised.

Also the Krazy Katz were honored for their victory at the Ed McKenzie Saturday Party on television. The boys entered the Teen Talent contest and won first prize.

The Senior Citizens of Inkster, a branch of the adult education committee, visited the Holland Festival in a chartered bus.

They all made quite an outing of the trip by taking their lunch along. The trip was enjoyed tremendously. The Senior group leaders are Mrs. Cleste Cash and Mrs. Rose Simmon. Mrs. Wilzetta Brown, Adult Education Director, accompanied the group.

ONE YEAR AGO

May 19, 1970 — A clause requiring reimbursement to the City of Wayne for up to three times the damage in cases of vandalism to city parks is one feature of the Recreation Ordinance adopted by the Council.

The clause, which is in addition to a defined maximum penalty of $500 or 90 days for defacing such facilities, also stated that in cases of conviction of minors, parents will receive judgment.

The school superintendents of the three districts serving Inkster met with the city council to review and discuss improvement of the city's narcotics education program. Inkster's budget for next year includes $36,000 for narcotics education.

Three members of the Cherry Hill Board of Education — Theodore Ridley of Westland, Gloria Pluta of Inkster and Kenneth Pearce of Dearborn Heights — volunteered to work with the council in formulating programs.

With less than 20 days left until the June 8 Board of Education election, active campaigning has begun for the three candidates.

Seeking re-election are Gerald D. Engwis and Russell D. Millar. Challenging the two men is Mrs. Shirley Gilmore.

"Where is Dr. Atchley?" was one of the key questions posed at a meeting of FAA officials and pilots in Room 113 of Plymouth High School.

The group of "concerned citizens" — this time composed of homeowners who are also pilots — gathered to discuss FAA recommendations to change flight patterns at Canton Township's Mettetal Airport.

Speaking of schools

Basic money problem is where it is spent

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF, Superintendent, Huron School District

Michigan's basic school financial problem is not so much how many dollars we are spending, but rather how we are distributing those dollars.

The reliance upon the local property tax to supply over fifty percent of the monies spent on education has always resulted in unequal learning opportunities for youngsters based upon where their parents happen to live.

Families with the least amount of income find themselves usually in communities with the smallest tax bases. These districts typically have higher tax rates than richer communities but less money to spend on each child attending school.

So we have the situation where people with less income are paying high taxes but their children receive fewer educational opportunities than students in neighboring schools.

Last year in Wayne County, for example, residents in Riverview paid a tax rate of 18.9 mills, raising a total of $966 per student when combined with state aid. By contrast, Southgate residents living next door paid a tax rate of 28.9 mills but had only $705 per student from state and local sources to educate their children.

The concept of trying harder and getting less is one not in keeping with the American democratic ideals.

Yet this system of school financing has continued to be used in Michigan.

The Governor and many members of the State Legislature have tried to resolve this situation. Several plans have been suggested to correct the injustices which exist. No one plan can cure all the problems which exists and which can gain the support of the legislature.

The members of the legislature need to know where each of us stand on this important question. Let them know that you will support a plan which will bring equality to Michigan youngsters.

With your voice being heard, this will be the year which brings new opportunity to many students.

Automotive parts firm breaks new ground

Ground was broken recently for the new $1.5 million Automotive Parts Company Inc., NAPA Detroit Distribution Center, a subsidiary of General Automotive Parts Corporation, Dallas.

In addition to the Metropolitan Detroit area, the new center will service Toledo, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City and Midland.

The 78,700 sq. ft. office-warehouse building is being constructed in the Thompson Brown Airway Industrial Center, Ecorse Rd. between Merriman and Middlebelt Rd., one-half mile north of Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The site is within a quarter-mile of I-94 and just two miles east of the proposed I-275-I-94 Interchange.

Detroit General Manager James A. Baxter said that, upon completion late this year, the new facility will carry in excess of a $1 million inventory with over 90,000 part numbers represented. Anticipated annual sales are in excess of $6 million. Some 50 office and warehouse employees will staff the Center.

The company's business is the wholesale distribution of automotive parts and supplies. These parts are sold by the distribution center to both company-owned and independent jobber firms which, in turn, resell the parts to independent repair garages, service stations, fleets, car dealers, and other automotive service outlets.

The Detroit Center is one of 12 General Automotive Parts Center, all of which are members of the National Automotive Parts Association (NAPA), a voluntary association of over 54 automotive parts distribution centers, located throughout the continental United States.

According to Baxter, NAPA makes possible many cooperative benefits which would not be feasible on an individual distribution center or company basis. Among them are a national advertising program, a stock regulation and obsolescence protection program, and a greatly condensed, easy-to-read "Quick Reference Parts Catalog" for all makes of cars plus many other exclusive advantages and innovations.

Construction managers for the new NAPA Detroit Distribution Center are Geupel DeMars, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind. Architects and engineers are Richard G. Peirce, AIA, and Waldo H. Asbury, P.E., also of Indianapolis.

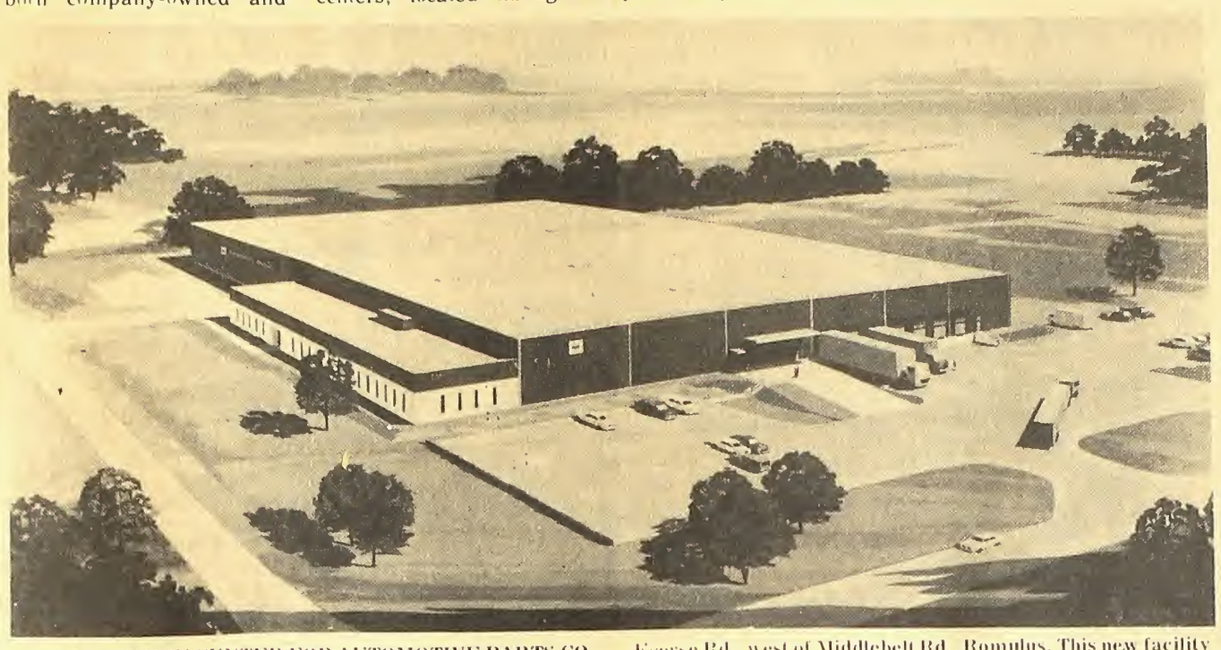
Detroit Metropolitan area contractors involved in the construction of the Center include: Stanley-Carter Corp., mechanical contractors; Phoenix Plumbing & Heating, fire protection equipment; Thomas Bros., electrical contractors; Chapper Iron Works, structural steel; Walcon, metal siding; Milbrand Maintenance, roofing contractors, and R.A. Cousino, foundation and parking area contractors.

Designed to allow for future expansion, the building initially will include 67,700 sq. ft. of warehouse space and a 10,000 sq. ft. air-conditioned office area.

The warehouse portion will include a central conveyor system designed to service the 7-bay shipping dock quickly and efficiently. There also will be two bays for pick-up trucks.

The NAPA Detroit Distribution Center is the third firm to locate in Airway Industrial Center, one of three Thompson-Brown industrial parks which have earned the designation of "Class A" in the Michigan Department of Commerce Certified Industrial Park program.

Park Sales Manager Kenneth Cheyne said Airway has fully-developed sites from one acre up. It already has all utilities required by industrial facilities including water, sewer and Class A concrete roads.



DISTRIBUTION CENTER FOR AUTOMOTIVE PARTS CO. INC. — This is an architect's rendering of the new $1.5 million Automotive Parts Company, Inc., Distribution Center a subsidiary of General Automotive Parts Corp., Dallas, to be constructed in the Thompson-Brown Airway Industrial Center, Ecorse Rd., west of Middlebelt Rd., Romulus. This new facility will have 78,700 square feet of space. It will carry in excess of $1 million inventory with over 90,000 part numbers represented. The structure will be designed to provide for future expansion.

Sumpter scouts honor mothers

Sumpter Township's Girl Scout troops, Brownie Troop 670, Junior Troop 251 and Cadette Troop 448 honored their mothers with a pot luck dinner last Thursday, at the Sumpter Elementary School.

The Color Guard included Sandy Innes-Brownie; Carrie Keeler, Junior; and Color Bearer Charlene Harris a cadette.

Special guest was Mrs. Velma Harcas, Troop services director and adult trainer.

After dinner, the Court of Awards included presentations to mothers. Cadettes presented long-stemmed roses and Juniors presented tulip recipe holders.

The Brownies then sang several songs including "Make New Friends" and "Brownie Smile Song."

Next, the Juniors presented a "Funny Fashion Show". Such creations as Hot Pants, Sophisticated Housewife and a Cocktail Dress were created by the girls with some help from their mothers.

The Cadettes then harmonized on such songs as "Our Chalet" and "Our Cabana". The closing ceremony was "Taps" led by Cadettes and joined by all present.

Math experiments make arithmetic livelier

Approximately 40 teachers of the Van Buren Public Schools, including the fourth grade teachers at the Elwell Elementary School, participated in a Math Workshop under the supervision of Dr. John Ginther and Dr. Don Buckeye of the Eastern Michigan University staff.

The purpose of the workshop was to develop a system of learning by doing.

The teachers attended for the last 11 Tuesdays. They were taught how to improvise and construct various visual aids that could be used by their students in making the learning of arithmetic a little more interesting.

The teachers were also given the opportunity to collect various techniques that have been successful for other teachers.

Involving students in this type of program, which is in addition to their regular text, takes a great deal of time, patience and effort.

First, materials must be collected and arranged on assignment cards. Secondly, the students must have the right type of instruments to work with and they must be procured. Thirdly, the teacher must supervise about 15 different experiments at once. It is essential that the teacher give only leading questions and not give the answer away.

Following the program through step by step as the student would do it was demonstrated recently by the fourth graders at Elwell Elementary School under the direction of their teachers Mrs. May Jane Ferrett and Mrs. Alyce Payne.

First the students in groups of two to four go to the assignment card file and pull a card. Secondly they obtain the instruments they will need. Then they discuss what they might do. Fourthly they do the experiment and find their conclusions. And finally they fill out an assignment sheet putting down exactly what they did and what they accomplished.

"Seeing the program in action is inspiring. The children are enthused and eager and they actually forget all the differences they might have had that particular day," remarked School principal William S. Chizmar.

WRITING UP CONCLUSIONS — Two fourth graders at the Elwell Elementary School are writing up their conclusions after participating in a program of learning math by carrying out selected assignments in addition to regular text book work. The students are Toni Garlick (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garlick, 43706 Harris Rd.; and Tina Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Martin, 600 Sumpter Rd.

Bicycle prize surprise

Frank Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lyons of Hollywood St., Romulus, took home a brand new Road Runner bicycle from Harrison Elementary School's PTA fair Saturday.

Frank, who is a fourth grade student at Harrison School, said he had prayed hard that he would win the bike.

But the odds were about 300 to one that he wouldn't be picked in the drawing that included the names of every child in the school.

"I couldn't believe it," said Mrs. Lyons. "We were just about to leave," she said as she struggled to get the bike in the luggage compartment of her compact car.

Q. I was discharged from the Armed Forces several years ago. Will the Veterans Administration reimburse my family for "Burial Expenses" if something were to happen to me in the future?
Mr. Robert Brenner

A. Yes, Veterans Administration pays an amount, not to exceed $250.00, towards the "Burial Expenses" of a veteran. In addition, and this is seldom brought to the family's attention, the administration should supply a U.S. flag for burial and the choice of either a Granite or a Bronze marker for the grave at the cemetery.

A recommendation by the Water and Sewer Commission to have a register of seven or eight contractors available for emergency water and sewer line repair service has been approved by the Van Buren Township Board.

Recently, sealed bids for emergency repair service was received by the township.

Ackron Contracting Co. of Belleville was the successful bidder but later withdrew its bid because it did not include retainer fee.

The matter was referred to the township engineers, Morris Levine and Associates of Detroit.

A report from the firm to the Water and Sewer Commission prompted the recommendation of having a list of contractors available in hopes that when one is needed, one of them will be available.

Faust wants change in racing administration

Despite the extensive publicity given to dog racing and off-track betting, Senator William Faust, D-Westland, has expressed confidence in his recently proposed legislation that would guarantee winter race meets for both thoroughbred and harness racing.

"Presently," said Faust, "the state racing commissioner determines the racing dates. Under this procedure, there is no guarantee that Michigan will have winter racing at all - everything depends on the decision of one man."

The Faust bill would require that the racing commissioner issue winter race dates to any licensed track that applies. The bill defines winter race meets as these hold in December, January, February, March and April.

"Racing in this state is a big business," he said. "Last year a total of $285 million dollars was wagered by track patrons. Of this amount, Michigan recieved $21.4 million in racing revenue."

Faust pointed out that attendence was up over past years too. He said that these statistics reflect the rapid growth of the horse racing sport and industry in the state.

"I believe that it is about time," he said, "that the legislature stepped in and established solid legislation for winter racing in Michigan. It is shoddy business practice to have multi-million dollar industries and major sources of state revenuedependent on the year-to-year decisions of the racing commissioner."

Senator Faust contends that the state loses a large share of racing revenue each year to Canada when the Detroit tracks are not open.

Farm has rare pets

Two silver-colored pheasants, a reported rarity according to local conservation department, are the pets of Phillip W. Manoli of 23762 Haggerty Rd., Sumpter Township.

Manoli, who operates a two-acre farm on Haggerty Rd., between Judd and Wear Rds. stated that he purchased the two silver-winged pheasants in Fowlerville, Mich., to raise as pets.

The hen pheasant has laid her eggs and, Manoli proudly reports that the rooster pheasant has been sitting on the egg nest.

He added that a check with the local conservation deparmment agent disclosed that this, too, is unusual.

Crossing gates set to go up

Early action is expected on the installation of gates at the Martz and Bemis Rds. crossings of the Norfolk & Western Railway tracks, the Michigan Department of Commerce reported to the Van Buren Township Board.

The state agency disclosed that it had received a communication from railway officials stating requests for safety gates and the crossings have been reviewed and the matter will be set for inspection at the "earliest possible date."

Accidents at the Martz rd. crossing and its nearest to a trailer park brought demands that some safety measures be taken by the railway.

Band director outlines program of Belleville High orchestra

By MRS. HELEN JOSEPH
BAND DIRECTOR

The Orchestra at Belleville High School was first started in 1954 with string instruction beginning in the elementary schools. It persevered through the years and now has become an excellent organization and has taken its place with a fine band and choir.

The band with its threefold tone resulting from the brass, wood-wind and percussion gives a beautiful sonority of sound.

The orchestra may be considered as a development and expansion of the band, and with the addition of the strings an astonishing variety of tone colors come from the combination of four families of instruments, always dominated by the strings.

The surest way in which the musician can be assured of having skill and even enjoyment in music is by performing for others. There are two qualifications, however, which are essential: that the music be high in quality and that the music be artistically performed.

Musical skill developed in the high school is one of the most simple and acceptable means of showing gratitude to the taxpayer for the advantages of high school education.

The Van Buren Public Schools and the community are to be commended for their support of an outstanding music education program in our schools.

The band, orchestra, and choir are given equal attention in an integrated program of music.

The whole viewpoint of music is that it is beautiful and gives esthetic satisfaction. With this in mind the Belleville High School Orchestra has chosen "Music to Please Everyone" as the theme for its concert to be held in the new High School Auditorium at 8 P.M. Tuesday.

The program will open with an overture by Piccini, characterized by delightful melodies in the strings and woodwinds. Continuing with music from the 18th century will be Bach's Fugue in G minor, "The Lesser".

A thematic Synopsis of Caesar Franck's Symphony in D minor will take our listeners into the 19th century and will show the vast change in orchestra sound.

Just before intermission the orchestra will perform "Orpheus in the Underworld" by Offenbach. The libretto of this two-act burlesque opera is taken from Greek Mythology.

The music projects the tender love music of Orpheus and Eurydice, and at times violent suffering of Orpheus when his bride is taken from him into the Underworld.

After intermission, a very unusual, contemporary musical story is told in "Pages from Negro History".

The story of "Africa" with tom-toms and woodwind themes is heard first. The flute carries the theme to "Slavery" in which a conversation between winds and strings is heard. The story ends with "Emancipation."

Greg Heuer, band director, will narrate the story.

Frank Ruzzin, also a recent visitor to Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda and other points of East Africa, was also on hand to add to the program.

Czechs also are masters of film fantasy-satire

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Sidney Glazier presents a U-M Productions release of a Yugo-Czech Production, "The Seventh Continent," written and directed by Dusan Vuotic. Color. Unrated. Presented as part of the Detroit Premieres season at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

It there is anyone arounf better at combining fantasy and satire than the Czechs, they'll have proved it on stage, with such plays as Capeck's "R.U.R.," in the world of mime with the Theatre on the Balustrade, and with their novel presentations at Montreal's World Fair.

Now, with Dusan Vuotic's "The Seventh Continent," presented last week by the Detroit Insitute of Arts' Detroit Premieres season, they have amply demonstrated their mastery of film fantasy-satire also. "The Seventh Continent," like Swift's Gulliver, is much more than a pleasant romp for the children. It stings and its marksmanship is right on target.

Adding the deftest of special effects to his bright cinematorgraphy, Vukotic tells his allegory of all the children of the world Two urban children, crossing a river with their parents on a car ferry, set sail in a rubber boat when the little girl's basket slips overboard.

Their ultimate destination becomes a deserted island, highly fertile, for drawings of trees, when cut out of a map the children have and planted in the sand, sprout. The remant of the map then serves as a doorway to the world through which the children summon all the other neglected children of the world to their island.

Not too much happens on the island - the children are busy learning that the island's shells make remarkable music - for Vukotic is far more concerned with the world left behind and the foolish adults who inhabit it.

In a brilliant attack on officialdom, he watches the world react to the disappearance of the children, which creates a field day for out-of-power politicans who blame the ins for the tragedy; for pseudo-religionists who talk of God's will; and for commercial husters who suggest that a popular brandof chocolate will lure the children home.

But mostly for the international diplomatic who, meet to pick their nits, object to the attitudes of other nations, ensnarl themselves in rhetoric and parlimentary procedure and allow the scientists to disect the phenomenon, When a couple of children return to seek a mustic teacher for one shell which has not learned how to play, they are driven away by a spate of absurdities.

Do the children ever return? Why, for heaven's sake would they want to?

'No Place' itself gives theater justification

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

Ashton Springer and Jeanne Warner present "No Place To Be Somebody," a play in three acts by Charles Gordone, directed by Gordone, sets by John Retsek, lighting by Conrad Penrod. At the Vest Pocket Theatre through June 6 with the following cast: Philip M. Thomas, Terry Alexander, Ian Sanders, Robin Lane, Paulette Jones, Mary Alice, Richard Lawson, Susan Sparling, W. Benson Terry, Larry Gorodkin, Richard Lawrence, Philip Hanson, Richard Finkelstein, Winston Young.

A good play will often have an ache in it, a scream of agony which can't be masked, no matter how much tinsel you sprinkle on it. So it is with Charles Gordon's 1970 Pulitzer Prize play "No Place To Be Somebody," the first off-Broadway play ever to win the award (although another off-Broadway play did again this year).

When it proved difficult to get a road company, a new company was formed just for a run at the Vest Pocket, to allow that sagging house to get on with its season. And, despite the rustic opener with Buddy Ebsen and regardless of which two plays complete the season, it has indeed been ambly shored.

"No Place," all by itself justifies the existance of Detroit's off-Broadway house.

Gordone's play has all the soft gently edges of romantic fantasy for it is seen through the eyes of a poet-actor, Gabe Gabriel, who is also the principal witness to the tragedies which mark its tough inner core.

The "somebody" is Johnny Williams, a black Greenwich Village bar owner who figures he can establish himself only by carving out a piece of action from the Mafia. To do this, he has been waiting long years for his mentor, an aging hoodlum, Sweets Crane, to get out of jail.

But Sweets returns a dying man who has lost the taste for crime. In frustration, Johnny woos the liberal daughter of a crooked Mafia judge and she steals some of her father's documents with which Johnny hopes to blackmail the Mafia capo. By now his soul his lost; in his quest for the judge's daughter he has abandoned the lost white prostitute who was his mistress and she has committed suicide.

Gordone has directed his own work—he did not to do so in New York—and it is possible that his characters were not honed to their full perfection, but there are images enough to haunt one for a long time:

There is Gabriel, a creature of frantic rhythms which knot up the essence of his blackness—and his griefs—into a wonderfully exciting bit of stagemanship.

And there is also the bottom of the well for such as Johnny's mistress who in despair over his fickle behavior blackens her face with soot in a final protest before her self-destruction. And the bottom for Shanty, Johnny's white bartender, a pot-head who thinks he is a drummer with great soul; but when he is given a set—a well-meant but ill-fated gift, he is so bad that his illusions can not survive and he must flee to save them.

It is the infectious rhythms of Philip M. Thomas as Gabriel which establish the tempo, but the most agonized performance is that of Terry Alexander as Johnny, doomed by his own desires. Other convincing pictures are those of Ian Sanders as Shanty and Robin Lane as the doomed prostitute. Least convincing were Philip Hanson as an almost-indifferent Mafia judge and Richard Lawson, who evokes little sympathy as Johnny's gay cook.

Despite its past problems, "No Place To Be Somebody" makes the Vest Pocket the place to see something more than exciting.

Symphony program revised

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra is revising its traditional summer program of free concerts to incorporate a festival appeal for its Michigan State Fairgrounds presentations and to expand the Belle Isle offerings into a music theatre format to be given at three different city locations.

As in recent years, the symphony will perform before student audiences in various inner-city schools before launching into its summer activities.

This year, however, the number of concerts will be increased from 22 to 30, enabling more school children to enjoy Symphony performances. The Orchestra will appear in 30 elementary and junior high schools between May 24 and June 4.

The basic changes in the 1971 "Music Under the Stars" concerts at the State Fairgrounds June 10 to 20 jinclude the addition of renowned guest conductors and soloists and a greater variety in concert fare.

One of Hollywood Bowl's most noted musical figures, Carmen Dragon, will participate in the Detroit Symphony's 1971 State Fairgrounds series, conducting on June 19.

"Music Man" Meredith Willson has been engaged to conduct the opening performance of June 10 as well as on June 12. Symphony conductors Peirre Hetu and Paul Freeman will also conduct. Guest soloists will include pianists Carole Rosenberger and George Walker in their Detroit Symphony debuts; Symphony trumpet players Frank Kaderabek and Gordon Smith.

scene ..about town
cap patric—

..TO A PERSON arriving in Heaven..said St. Peter, "We dine sharp at 7..then breakfast's at eight..never mind if you're late..there's even better stuff at eleven." A question has since arisen as to whether this was Heaven.. or was this VICTOR'S FINE FOODS, at 34410 Ford Rd., in Westland?? For you CAN eat at 7..or 8..or 11..or WHENEVER and whatever you please! VICTOR'S is always open there is ample, well-lit parking on a main thorofare..and the list of goodies is almost endless! Mothers especially dote on the Kiddie Korner Menu, which features special size portions of things like "little" orders of Perch (appropriately priced, too!)..mini-sandwiches of Bacon lettuce & tomato..Kiddie Burgers and lots of other tiny goodies! There are special suggestions for Weight Watchers. There are special drinks for poor sleepers. There are special foods for Seafood Capital-L-overs. And we'll NEVER tell it all. Becuz we wantcha to go there and try it. If you're "Out Westland Way"..g'wan out VICTOR'S way. And let us know you've been there. We want to put your name in the paper!

MARGIE GARTZ..WILMA SCHULTZ..JOYCE ALEJIAN..PHYLLIS TAYLOR..THE GOLDEN COIN..they're ALL names you read constantly, right?? But it's when you read 'em all together ..and when you FIND 'em all together, at 1870 S. WAYNE RD. that you k-n-o-w something big and for real is happening! So here these gals sat..talkin hard and straight about the Parents Campaign against drug abuse..and here sat, like 7 million Customers (give or take a million), saying "But what can we do??" Well, if you just wanna feel better about the state of the Nation..or the possibility of raising straight offspring..you can ALWAYS stop at The Golden Coin for something to eat, or for a Cocktail, or for some soft, relaxing music. That works every time. But it DOESN'T put an end to Drug Abuse does it? So Frank & Louise Skrumbellos have offered to see that every EVERY penny (checks are nicer) you leave behind for the Parents Campaign will get there the same day. Which gives you a great reason to stop for that extry libation, right? And you'll go back to the Office..or home to the Family..or just ennyplace..feeling like all's right with the world..and you're the one that's helping it get that way! Stop at The Golden Coin with that liddle donation..and look around for the guy whose picture is up on top of the Colyum. I like people who like to help kids. And if I see ya there..the refreshments are on me!!

GO TO MR. MIKES (it's right at the corner of Wayne Rd. and Ford Rd.) AT LEAST t-w-i-c-e this week! Go once to take the Sprats for old time Movie Nights. That's Monday-Tuesday-TONIGHT, Wednesday..and the flicks are Laurel & Hardy, Perils of Capeneka, things you WANT 'em to see! Everybody laughs while they eat..everybody goes home feeling like Family is still hangin' in there someplace! Go back together, just the two of you..plus any ten of your neighbors, of course..on Thursday, Friday, Satd'y and Sunday. The Guitars play and the people hum and the cheer flows..til the whee hours. And again you go home feelin' like the Family is still hangin in there somewheres..only it's even nicer! Weekend Music is old timey standards like you useta hum..weekend food is old timey food in GREAT BIG portions like Poppa Mike used to serve when it was Mr. Mikes little Coney Island, everyone in Westland and Wayne still went there. That hasn't changed either! It's STILL first-name Family style stuff. There's an old player piano..and an old time Bar..and an old time feelin' that is ONLY Mr. Mike's in all the world! If you like people..you don't dare miss it.

FROM MR. & MRS. S. K. SMITH, of Livonia, a nice note about THE DANISH INN, which is located at 32305 Grand River, just between 9 Mile & Farmington. "We loved the Wiener Schnitzel, we almost ate the plate when we tasted the Danish Frikadeller, our Relish Tray was crisp and out of this world, and our Creme de Menthe Parfait Dessert was what finally decided for us that we had to write our first fan letter!" Golly, folks, we couldn'a sed it better even if we spell it a little different! They also wrote a rhapsody about Mr. Pat Flowers, who holds forth at that Piano in a manner they come FROM New Orleans to hear! This one is the "deceiver". Driving by the front, it's sort of 'tucked in' to a little spot that makes you think it's tiny. But when you drive around back and see The Man moving those cars around the lot..and when you come inside and see how it fans out into something elegant and delicious and relaxing..you know you've found it. Save this one for when you wanna feel romantic! Pat Flowers is there Tuesday through Saturday, by the way..and o-oh, it makes your eating even romantic-er. If you'll just excuse me now, I'm gonna write Mr. & Mrs. Smith MY first fan letter..complimenting them on their most excellent taste!

JUST AS FERVENT groups of thirty-plus people, hypothesized by Chaucer, were rewarded for superiority by dining at The Canterbury Kitchens of old..a group of 30 or 40 nice people, all "Channel 8" Citizens Band Operators, gather at THE CANTERBURY KITCHEN, 27281 Grand River (at Inkster), of a Friday & Saturday, to enjoy the essence of Canterbury famous dining which is being conscientiously maintained there by Mgr. Charles Mayo, whose cooking is legend as worthy as Chaucer's! This is NOT a great B-I-G spot, although it affords plenty of parking and ample seating for average groups. What it is, is a real honest-to-goodness "start right from scratch" HOME COOKING kind of place you take the Family..meet the Girls..stop on Sunday, just before you go home..or even call up and say "Wrap it up!" they'll do that for you too! Take Our Dinners (especially the good, Good Friday Fish Specials!) are but a bit of the famous Canterbury Service. They're open 24 hours. They feature REALLY Special 'Daily Specials'. They do things like wrap their pancakes around little sausages and Country-cook their Chicken. But they're just the comfy-booths, wear-anything-y'all come kind of place you didn't know was still happening! Make it a regular. Everyone else is..and it's so-oo nice to be among the first!!

Ramada Inn at Metro planned to be different

Ramada Inns, Inc. a nationally known Hotel Chain of 300 Motor Inns, listed on the NYSE will open a 4 Million Dollar Hotel with a new concept, adjacent to the Detroit Metropolitan Airport on July 1.

The 251 room hotel, located at Merriman and Wickham Rds. Romulus, will be a departure from the usual Ramada Roadside Motor Inn.

Larger, having full convention capacities to 250, this full service hotel will offer a year-round enclosed swimming pool in conjunction with health club, saunas and exercise room.

The overall atmosphere will be a mixture of old English and country Spanish. Guests should find this an enjoyable departure from the cold chrome and plastic environment of daily corporate activities.

All guest rooms will have self contained, instant change over heating and airconditioning to satisfy every hotel guest. Color television, warm color co-ordination and best available sound conditioning will compliment every guest room.

Seven Executive Suites, each with wet Bar will serve dual purposes for small meetings of 8-10 people or sleeping accomodations for visiting dignitaries and corporate VIP's.

An exquisite old English restaurant, to be known as the "Squires" will allow gourmands to observe their steaks being broiled at a see through exhibition food preparation area. Separate Wine Barrel and Sour Dough Bread displays in the dining room will create an added incentive to gracious dining.

For some 250 people the cocktail lounge will be staffed by attractive Ladies attired in Red Hunt Jackets, a mini length skirt and black riding caps. Live entertainment with a sound of the seventies format will appeal to the 25 to 45 age group.

An entire floor, separated from the guest wing, is available for private meetings and food functions. Pillars are not to be seen as the construction here is free-span concrete beam. Each roof span is 102 feet long weighing 35 tons. Seven individual meeting rooms plus a private foyer offer varying configurations for groups of 35 to 400. Sound conditioning, lighting and air transference have been given prime consideration with excellent results.

Ramada has announced that the general manager of this hotel will be Mike Kabat.

Kabat, a graduate of Michigan State University, is being transferred from Ramada's highly successful hotel location at the Cleveland Airport. Prior to joining Ramada, Kabat enjoyed great success in Ann Arbor, Mich.

An extensive pre-opening sales campaign has already being initiated by Bob Lawrence, the hotel's director of sales.

Lawrence who has an extensive hotel sales background in the midwest was transferred by the corporation from Dayton, Ohio where he co-ordinated sales for the corporately owned properties in that city.

Governor getting cans from Romulus students

Students from Romulus Junior High School and St. Aloysius Elementary School have been busy gathering cans and addressing them to Governor Milliken.

Last Friday the members of Mrs. Emily Thomas's Non Pollution Club sealed and wrapped 75 cans for mailing.

The wrappers, which were provided by the Detroit Audubon Society, contain a message that asks for legislation requiring the soft drink and beer industry to use containers that can be returned and recycled.

When club members arrived at the Romulus post office, post office employees were a little taken aback, but after stamps were affixed all the cans were loaded into a cart and wheeled off. They should be delivered in Lansing Monday or Tuesday, said a club spokesman.

The young people who held a bake sale earlier this year to earn funds for their project of helping clean up the environment, spent $6 of their treasury for postage.

Bake sale scheduled

A bake sale sponsored by "Tops" Watch & Weight Club was held last Friday morning at Box's Jewelers, located on Main St., Belleville.

Club President Mrs. Carolyn Bryan reported that the club meets every Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Belleville High School.

The club has issued an invitation to teenagers to join their group. For further information call Mrs. Bryan at 697-7671 or Carmal Youbey at 941-3785.

Township opposes state bill

The Van Buren Township Board is opposed to a Michigan Senate bill which, if approved, would require township and city clerks to accept voter registrations on two Sunday preceding voter registration deadlines before any election.

The township board adopted a resolution voicing its opposiion to the bill and directed that the resolution be forwarded to Senator William Faust in Lansing.

A similar action as taken by the Westland City Council, which asked the cooperation of Van Buren officials in its protest of the bill.

It was stated that the cost of taking registrations on Sundays is prohibitive.

CAP cadets exercise problem-solving knack

The Detroit Metropolitan Group of Civil Air Patrol, which covers much of western Wayne County, recently concluded the first of its summer season field exercises for cadet members.

Forty cadets, representing the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron and the Cherry Hill Cadet Squadron, participated. The exercise was supervised by seven senior personnel representing both Cadet Squadrons and the Metropolitan Emergency Services Squadron, an all-senior communications unit.

Location for the exercise was Lincoln Junior High School, on Willow Road southwest of Belleville. Cadets participated in teams of two and carried out a series of six unusual problems designed to test their imagination, teamwork, and problem solving abilities. Problems included crossing an area of flooring without touching it, assembling a plastic puzzle, constructing a support for a brick from a sheet of paper, and giving instructions to a subordinate who cannot reply to his instructions.

The purpose of the last mentioned exercise, where the team members sat back to back, was to demonstrate the need for clear, consise instructions when giving orders. The higher ranking team member had to tell the other how to arrange a series of objects on the desk in front of him, but the subordinate couldn't ask questions or even indicate that he understood the instructions he was receiving. Under these circumstances, the team leader was forced to phrase his instructions in very clear and easily understood terms.

During each of the exercises a senior evaluator scored each team as to their teamwork, time used to solve the problem, and leadership qualities of the team leader. The seniors were under the command of Major Alan R. Creighton, Group Training Officer from Ypsilanti.

Assisting were Warrant Officer Nelson Wazenski of Lansing, Chief Warrant Officers George and Lillian Cantrell of Taylor, Master Sergeant Jack Stubbs of Inkster, Airman First Class Gerard Cubon of Dearborn, Senior Member James Creith of Belleville, and Mr. Grant Juffaker of Wayne, a former Cadet in the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron.

The winning team consisted of Cadet Second Lieutenants Bruce Judycki, of 31543 Alvin in Garden City, and Fred Chesney, of 15180 West Road in Flat Rock, both from the Wayne-Romulus Squadron. Their prize for winning the competition was a 21-inch color television set.

The excercise, which lasted for six hours, was the first of several activities planned for Civil Air Patrol cadets in the coming months. Others include a field trip to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base to visit the Air Museum, practice communications, search and rescue, and civil defense field exercises, and at least one more Leadership exercise.

Two teachers finish 71 years in district

Mrs. Dortha Simmons of 155 Second St. and Mrs. Velma Kulzer of 400 Liberty St., Belleville, are retiring this year after a combined total of 71 years in public school education.

Both are teachers at Edgemont Elementary School, and have taught in the building since the day it was opened.

Mrs. Simmons is retiring after 31 years in the teaching profession. She had her high school education in Cincinnati. She graduated from Michigan State Normal College, Now Eastern Michigan University, in 1929.

Before beginning her tenure with the Van Buren Public Schools in 1947, Mrs. Simmons taught in Big Rapids, and the Washtenaw County Schools.

Her daughter, Mary Ann Shafer, is presently teaching at Haggerty School. She also has a son Douglas who is an Episcopal priest in Minnesota.

Mrs. Simmons has three grandchildren. Her late husband, Carl, was a long time teacher, coach, and administrator for the Van Buren Public Schools.

Mrs. Velma Kulzer is retiring after 40 years of teaching. She graduated from Belleville High School in 1927 and Michigan State Normal College in 1930. She taught for eight years at the old Belleville Elementary School before leaving for the Huron District.

In the 14 years she spent teaching in Huron, Mrs. Kulzer taught all grades from beginners to sixth grade. Mrs. Kulzer came back to the Van Buren Public Schools in 1953, and in 1955 moved to the New Edgemont School where she has been a fifth grade teacher.

The Edgemont School PTO is sponsoring a tea in honor of their two retiring teachers Thursday, June 3 from 3:45 to 5 p.m. in Edgemont's multi-purpose room.

The PTO extends an invitation to anyone in the community to attend this event and help them honor these two fine teachers who have dedicated themselves to the children of the Van Buren Public Schools.

Belleville wins regional track title

Pettus is sensational

By DANN BARKUME
Sports Writer

With Garrade Pettus leading the way, Belleville captured its second straight regional track crown last Saturday, compiling 32 points to second place Ann Arbor Huron's 29. Livonia Franklin finished third with 25. Dearborn Heights Robichaud finished fourth with a total of 23 and rounding out the top five was Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Huron High School, competing in the Class B bracket, earned four points and finished in a five way tie for second to last place in the Class B standings.

Romulus, one of five schools unable to score a single point, finished in a six way tie for the cellar in Class A competition.

Pettus' performance can be classed as nothing short of outstanding. The senior track sensation won the high jump with a leap of six feet eight inches, giving Pettus a new regional record and a new field record in that event.

Pettus also qualified for state finals competition in the long jump with a leap of 23 feet, one half inch good for second place. Tony Ogletree of Belleville finished fourth with a leap of 21 feet four inches and did not qualify for state competition. Ogletree's effort, however, gave Belleville valuable points in the team standings.

Pettus continued his winning ways by taking the low hurdles with a time of 20.2. Ogletree was not to be denied this time as he finished third with a time of 20.5, earning himself a place in state final competition. Pettus continued to run wild as he sped through the 120 high hurdles with a time of 14.5, giving him his third gold medal of the regional meet and a fourth qualification for state final competition.

Jon Cross, Belleville's outstanding two miler, finished first in his specialty with a time of 4:32.0 to qualify for state competition.

Belleville's Dan Clark finished fourth in the mile run with a time of 4:32.0, but was unable to qualify for further competition.

Huron's Paul Ingle finished third in the mile run with a time of 4:42.4 in Class B competition and qualified for the state finals. Ingle's performance gave him a berth on the state team and he was the only area thinclad other than members of the Belleville team to qualify for state finals

Some interesting events at the meet came about in the mile relay event when the five finishers qualified for the state meet. Thurston, Cherry Hill and Franklin finished one, two, and three in that order and had a time difference of less than 0.09. Ann Arbor, Pioneer and Adrian finished fourth and fifth, respectively, and their times were fast enough to qualify for the state meet as well.

Bellevillle athletic director, Harry Hidenfelter, who served as meet director, called it an outstanding meet in every respect "We had some outstanding times and some exceptional performances in the field events as well," Hidenfelter said, "This had to be one of the best events we have ever hosted.

Belleville has been the perennial host for regional competition.

THEY'RE TOPS — Flashing smiles at the regional meet are Belleville's "Mr. Sensational," Garrade Pettus (at left) and Huron's Dave Edge. Pettus captured three gold medals and was runnerup in a fourth event as he paced Belleville to its second consecutive regional track championship. Edge is the top point-getter for Huron's track team, which will be trying to win the conference meet this week.

Athletes can work together

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

Those skeptics who go around and preach the end of high school athletics would have had a rough day of it on Saturday at Belleville where nearly 800 - yes, eight hundred -- high school athletes competed for the regional track championship.

When you have such a congregation of emotions fighting it out you expect, in most parts, trouble.

There was none at Belleville.

In fact, the only members of the assemblage that received stern condemnations were some of the coaches who took part in the meet. And blasting the few manipulators was Harry Hidenfelter, the regional meet host whose official capacity as meet director kept him checking and rechecking some of the coaches' manuevers.

"I like to win and I'm not against bending some rules to win," said Hidenfelter after the meet. "And though 85 percent of all of the coaches are honest people, 15 percent really are down-right crooked.

"They manipulate their entries after the entries are closed. I had to go and toss some of the kids out of races when their coaches knew darn right the boys were not eligible to compete."

Hidenfelter explained that each coach is given an entry blank in which he may designate whom he wishes to use in any given event. The coach also has a right of naming an alternate. These blanks are submitted to the director before the meet.

"Then, when it comes time for the race, some coaches will look over the field, see where his boy has a better chance of winning and attempt to shove his athlete in that event where the opposition is weaker," said Hidenfelter.

These manipulations cause tournament officials a lot of headaches, but, of course, it doesn't have any effect upon law enforcement agencies. At Belleville, there were no incidences of violence, of hooliganism, or window smashing, or malicious destruction of property that usually accompany large high school athletic events.

"We have not had such problems here this year or the five years we have hosted the regionals," said Hidenfelter. "And, of course, we are happy about it.

"People say that such congregation usually brews trouble, but we haven't seen anything like that and you must remember we have something like 39 high schools represented in this regional.

"It goes to show that when kids want to behave, they can and nothing is going to stand in their way. We had 800 participants alone, plus fans, so it wasn't just a small thing" said Hidenfelter.

Has hosting the regionals been a catalyst for the sport in the city?

"I think so," said Hidenfelter. "Our kids in the area are seeing some real fine athletes and this doesn't hurt to generate interest in the sport and having good crowds on hand always helps to encourage these youngsters.

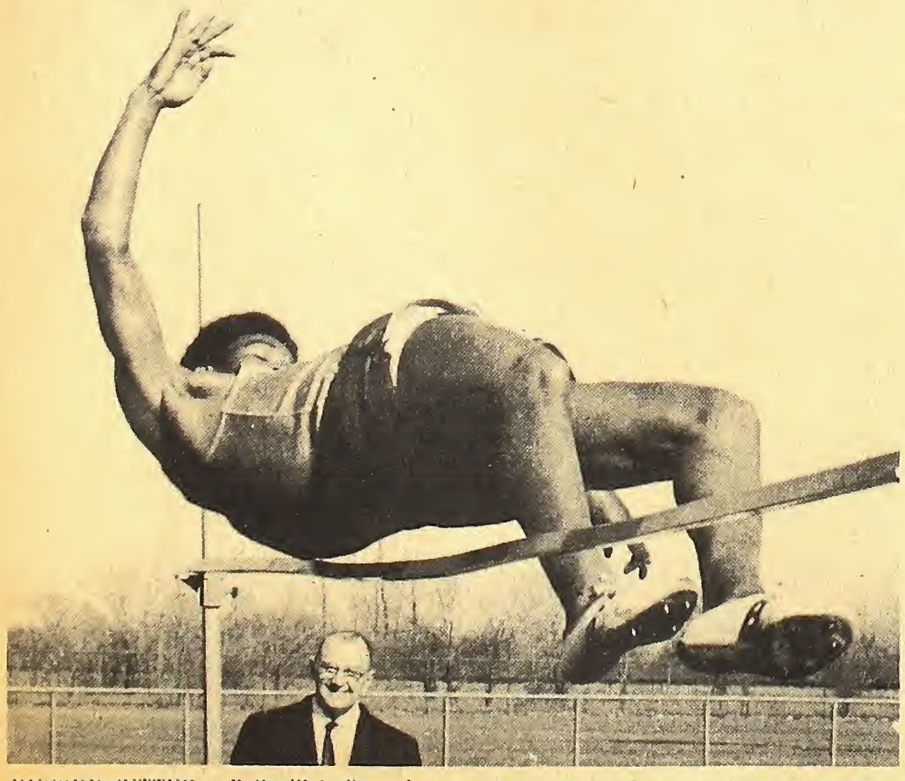
A lot of talent must have rubbed off on Belleville athletes - they've won the regional for the past two years and probably have the best all-around athlete in the state this year in senior Garrade Pettus.

Pettus, a football and basketball star, leaped 6 feet, 8 inches to a set a regional, track record in the high jump, and then won gold medals in the high and low hurdles and capped the sensational afternoon off with a second place performance in the broad jump.

And Belleville Coach Ken Head surely deserves a lot of the plaudits for an outstanding job in getting these kids ready for the meet. In the past two years as head coach he has brought two regional titles and a Suburban Six Conference title to the high school.

Now, if only all athletes would follow the example of our trackmen, we wouldn't have to worry about where to hold state basketball tournaments or football contests.

But that would be asking too much, or is it?



RECORD-SETTER — Belleville's Garrade Pettus uses the "Fosbury Flop" to post a record regional leap in the high jump at Belleville Saturday. Garrade cleared 6 foot, 8 inches, then went on to win the high and low hurdles and also finished second in the broad jump to become the regional's lone triple winner.

14 errors ruin Huron

Errors, errors and more errors spelled disaster for Huron's baseball squad last week as the Chiefs dropped three out of four contests. The week's opening contest saw the chiefs pull out a 6-5 decision over Flat Rock in eight innings. Junior pitcher, Ron Thompson went all the way, striking out nine, walking four and hitting one enroute to the victory.

Jack Gracia, who has put on a late season hitting surge, went three for three at the plate to boost his season average to .422. Butch Suemnick continued to hit the ball well, cracking out three hits in five trips to bring his season total to a sizzling .469. Dana Kemp, a bright spot in coach Ron Smith's line-up went two for four. Kemp, a bright spot in coach Ron Smith's line-up went two to

Romulus '9' has perfect week

Lowell Johnson's Romulus baseball squad continues to shine as the Eagles piled up three consectuive victories last week. The Eagles rolled over Ecorse, Willow Run and Belleville in three outings.

Leighton Ballard continues to throw the ball well as he upped his season record to 6-2 by defeating Ecorse 10-2. Not only was Ballard effective on the hill, but he was also damaging with his bat as he slugged a double and a home run in four trips and collected three RBI's. Ken McMann slammed a double and a home run in five trips and Keith Simmons cracked a pair of singles in four times at bat. Virgil Smith also collected a pair of hits in five trips.

Ballard picked up his second win of the week as he fanned 12 enroute to a 15-8 win over Willow Run. Sophomore Smith boosted his average to .474 by belting four singles in five trips and collecting three RBI's, Johnson said that Smith is one of the best young ball players he has ever seen and the Romulus baseball mentor is looking forward to two more outstanding seasons from the young infielder.

Simmons continued to come on strong as he went two for four and also collected three RBI's, all coming on a three run homer. Tony Hoffman and Bill Ward each contributed to the Romulus attack. Hoffman collected three singles in five trips and Ward chipped in with a pair of singles in four trips.

Simmons took over the mound duties against Belleville and proceeded to work his way to a close 4-3 decision over the Tigers. Simmons struck out five and walked five enroute to picking up the victory.

Smith collected two hits in three trips and knocked home a run and Frank Mayeran delivered the knockout punch when he singled with the bases loaded to chase home the tying and winning runs.

Romulus now stands at 10-2 overall for the season and is 3-1 in Twin Valley Conference play. Johnson has been pleased with his team's performance all season long and has said on several occasions that he has never coached a team with more talent than the current squad.

Romulus plays host to Rover Rouge and Ecorse in games on tap for this week.

Netters drop 3 matches

Romulus continues to have its problems on the tennis courts as their varsity tennis team dropped three matches in a row last week. The Eagles lost to Hamtramck by a score of 5-2, then dropped a 6-1 decision to Ecorse before handing Wayne Memorial a 5-2 victory.

Romulus was forced to forfeit the final doubles match to the Zebras.

Coach Zane Kuryliw says that he has some good prospects for the future, but the loss of key participants this season has hurt Romulus chances for a better showing.

Tigers take 2 of 3

Were it not for long time rival Romulus, Belleville might have recorded a perfect week in baseball as the Tigers just missed winning three by dropping a close 4-3 decision to the Eagles. Earlier, Belleville had slipped past Redford Union, 2-1 and had defeated Livonia Bentley by a score of 4-1.

Redford Union touched Belleville's Bern Gowen for a run in the first inning and then Gowen slammed the door shut as he scattered four hits enroute to the victory. Belleville picked up single scores in the third and fifth innings as Larry Fix led the way by smacking a home run to tie the contest in the third and then connecting for a single to send home the winning run in the fifth. The victory left Gowmen's Suburban Six record to 3-1

Belleville came up with a single tally in the fifth inning and went on to score three more in the sixth enroute to a 4-1 win over Livonia Bentley.

Dave Billings evened his league record at 1-1 as he held Bentley to six hits.

Dan Smith knocked home Belleville's first run in the fifth after Billings had led off with a double. Fix came on again with the bases loaded in the sixth and two out and he clubbed a single to center field, scoring all three runs.

Billings, who got off to a shaky start, settled down after two frames and gave only one hit away as he went the distance.

Belleville jumped to a three run advantage in the first inning against Romulus but the Eagles waited until the seventh inning to score four runs and take the victory. Gowen was victimized as he was hurt by a balk and two walks in the disastrous seventh inning.

Steve Theodore started for the Tigers and pitched a strong game for six innings. He was lifted in favor of Gowen for the final frame but Vitold Kaminskis' ideas backfired as Romulus erupted and took advantage of Belleville's miscues.

Belleville now stands at 5-7 overall and has a league record of 4-4.

The Tigers have a busy schedule this week as they take part in the Wyandotte tournament before taking on Allen Park, Trenton and Ypsilanti this week. Belleville will travel to Monroe on Monday for competition in the district competition in the state baseball tournment.

Huron drops 2 meets

The loss of Huron's top quarter-miler, Dan Clark, hurt the Chiefs last week as they dropped two Huron League decisions, the first to Jefferson 69-49 and the second to Techumseh, 72-46. Clark came back from a leg injury for the Tecumseh meet, but the Chief's mentor, Keith Reed, said that Clark's absence had a telling affect on Huron's performances.

In the Jefferson meet, Huron showed strongly in the field events, something that has been lacking for the Chiefs all year. Don Mittlestat won the shot-put event with a toss of 39 feet, 11 inches and Dave Edge finished third. Mike Sovodash grabbed a third place finish in the high jump. Sovodash also finished second in the long jump with Dave Durham, a freshman, grabbing first place with a leap of 18 feet, eight inches.

Jfferson was disqualfied in the 880 yard relay, but that didn't hinder Huron as they ran to a 1:35.0 finish. Ed Fakhoury grabbed a bronze meal for his efforts in the 880 yard dash and John Petri finished third in the high hurdle event.

Paul Ingle continued to run strong and won the mile with a time of 4:49.0 and Forrest Coop took third place in the same event. Roger Miles finished second in the 100 yard dash, with Durham right behind him for a third place finish.

Durham continued to be hot as he won the 220 yard dash with a time of 24.0 and Miles finished third. Mark Mittlestat finished second in the two-mile with a time of 10:59.0, marking his fastest indivdual

Howard Bauer of Belleville is Scoutmaster. The troop meets Wednesday evening from 6:30 - 8:30 at the Quirk Road School and any boy 13 years old interested in becoming a scout is invited to attend any Wednesday.

The scouts meet three weeks at the school and have one activity a month such as skating, bowling, etc.

Any boy interested may call Bauer at 697-3912 for more information in becoming a scout.

Governor reappoints HMCA commissioner

Kurt R. Keydel, president of the German language newspaper, Abend Post, has been reappointed by Governor William G. Milliken to the Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park agency with nine parks serving the citizens of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Keydel, who is chairman of the HCMA Board, begins his second, four-year term, which will expire on May 2, 1975. He continues to serve as a "representative-at-large" on the HCMA Board.

NEARING FINISH LINE — Dave Lorentson, Belleville's anchorman in the 880-yard relay, takes aim on the finish line as the Tigers place second in their heat to Redford Union. Other relay team members included Tony Ogletree, Arnold McCurdy and Alan Vandecar.

effort ever recorded. Edge finished second in the 440 yard dash and Petri grabbed a third place finish in the low hurdles.

In the Tecumseh meet, Don Mittlestat finished third in the shot put and Durham grabbed a third place in the pole vault as Huron continued to show improvement in the field events.

The Chiefs grabbed a first place in the 880 yard relay, breaking the tape with a time of 1:37.2. Dan Clark returned to action to win the quarter mile with a time of 2:11 and Fakhoury finished second. Petri grabbed a third place in the hith hurdles. Ingle placed in the mile and Durham won the 100 yard dash with a clocking of 10.8, Petri also grabbed a third place for his efforts in the low hurdles. Mark Mittlestat came on strong and won the two mile event and Durham remained in good form, winning the 220 yard dash with a time of 23.9.

The mile relay team set a new school record, winning the event with a time of 3:39.7.

Reed said that there were some good performances in the two losses last week, but that he was disappointed overall with the efforts of his charges. The Chiefs currently hold a 4-5 record overall and face Airport this week before the league meet, scheduled for Thursday. Reed calls Grosse Ile the team to beat in this year's race for the Huron League track crown.

Errors hinder Huron four. Kemp, only a sophomore, has taken over the regular catching duties.

Don Delano continues to be hot on the base paths, he has now stolen 16 bases in as many games.

Jamie Hinojosa took over the mound duties, but the Chiefs dropped a 3-1 decision to Carlson. Carlson grabbed three runs in the first two innings as the Chiefs were guilty of three out of their four errors in the first two frames. Hinojosa scattered only three hits while striking out nine and walking four, but the Chiefs were unable to recover against Carlson's early lead.

Glenn Dreganski took it on the chin against Grosse Ile, though he pitched seven innings and gave up only one hit, the Chiefs were again guilty of errors and Dreganski was victimized for five runs. Thompson came on in relief in the seventh inning and gave up two more runs as Huron dropped a 7-2 decision to Grosse Ile. The pair of Huron hurlers gave up only two hits but defensive lapses hurt the Chiefs.

Suemnick was once again the big man with the bat as he clubbed two hits in three trips to the plate.

Huron next headed into action with Bedford, and the Kicking Mules fought their way to a 10-7 victory. Bedford exploded for five runs in the first inning on three errors and four walks and Huron was unable to catch up in the rest of the contest. Thompson lasted only three innings and absorbed the loss as he gave up nine runs, Hinojosa came on in relief and gave up one run on four hits.

Suemnick slapped a home run and a single, Gracia countered with a triple and a single. Hinojosa and Kemp both contributed triples and Delano smacked a double. The big hits were all for naught as the Chiefs were unable to overcome Bedford's early bulge.

Huron, currently 4-12 overall and 3-9 in the Huron League, face Tecumseh and Airport before traveling to meet Carlson in the district tournament on Thursday. A game with Gabriel Richard is on tap for Friday.

The Eagles have now lost 10 out of 11 matches for the current campaign.

Kuryliw is high on eighth grader Ray Ebersberger, who once again showed classic form while performing against Ecorse. Kuryliw says that Ebersberger could be the next prep star of the area. The junior high student has yet to lose a match in competition this year and will be elevated to the varsity squad next season. Another bright spot is eighth grader Mike Heridia who also has shown strong form and ability with the racket. The addition of these two youngsters to the squad next season will; according to Kuryliw, give the Eagles added punch in the line-up next season.

Romulus drops one to Belleville

Romulus' track team continues to have their problems, but coach Jess Meriweather is optimistic that he can build a strong track team. "I'm going to take students out of the hall and recruit them for the track team," Meriweather said, "A good track man has to practice long and hard and until they (the members of the team) get used to that we won't go very far. I think we can build an interest in track here, though."

Romulus dropped a 71-45 decision to Belleville before coming up with a poor showing at the regional meet last Saturday. Garrade Pettus, once again, led the way for Belleville and Ron Buckley was the big man for Romulus. The Eagle thinclads only sent eight competitors to the dual meet with Belleville. Buckley won the pole vault with a leap of nine feet and finished first in the 220 yard dash with a time of 24.0. He also finished behind Pettus in the long jump. Pettus effort of 20 feet one inch was better than Buckley's second place effort.

Pettus also finished first in the high jump with a leap of five feet 10 inches, the high hurdles with a time of 15.5 besides taking the long jump.

Encountering Romulus, and the Tigers came out on the short end of a 62-52 score.

Lonnie Clark won the 880 yard run with a time of 2:01.7 and Dave Lorentson won the 440 with a time of 53.0. Pettus captured both the high and low hurdles with times of 15.5 and 20.8 respectively. Tony Ogletree finished third in the low hurdles with a time of 21.2.

John Cicotte won the mile with a run of 4:34.2 and Phil Combs won the two mile event with a time of 9:42.3. Jon Cross finished second to Combs.

Lowenston also finished second in the 220 with a time of 24.4 and Pettus easily won the high jump event with a leap of six feet two inches. Pettus and Ogletree also placed in the long jump with Pettus winning with a leap of 20 feet 11 inches. Ogletree was right behind with a leap of 19 feet nine inches.

Romulus has but one contest remaining on their track schedule. The Twin Valley conference meet is on tap for two days this week. Following the league meet, Romulus will call it a season and Meriweather plans to put together a strong team for competition next year.

County lists valuation figures

Spurred by new construction and rising prices, equalized value of property in Wayne County increased nearly a billion dollars this year to a record total of nearly $12.5 billion.

Figures approved recently by the County Board of Commissioners set the total equalized value of real and personal property in the county at $12,471,662,176. This compares with last year's total of $11,509,238,404—a $962,423,772 increase.

Equalized valuation of property in each of the 33 cities and 10 townships within the county was recommended by the commissioners' Equalization, Taxation and Apportionment Committee. The committee acted on a basis of figures prepared by the County Bureau of Taxation after meetings at which all local assessors were given an opportunity to be heard. The full board acted May 3.

"We believe these figures are an accurate and equitable application of the equalization formula established by the State Tax Commission," declared Commissioner Joseph Cardinal, of Dearborn, D-District 21, the committee chairman. "Any assessor who did not agree with the figure recommended for his community by the Bureau of Taxation had an opportunity to make his case before our committee."

The equalization process increased the total assessed property value of $10,467,522,246 (up from $9,425,723,379 a year ago) by $2,004,139,930.

Figures for communities in western Wayne County include:

Belleville: $6,449,830; Romulus: $117,476,230; Huron Township: $18,502,780; Sumpter Township: $29,777,640; and Van Buren Township: $40,865,410.

Taxable property outside Detroit accounts for 54.14 percent of the total equalized value, with Detroit accounting for 45.86 percent. Last week's figures were 53.9 percent out-county and 46.1 percent for Detroit.

'Brigadoon' looks good during first weekend

Capacity crowds were entranced with whimsical "Brigadoon" in its first week-end of performances, last week and were inclined to agree with John Chapman, of the New York Daily News, who said, "If there isn't a village named "Brigadoon," there ought to be!"

After two and a half months of rigorous rehearsals the cast and orchestra were near perfection as they interpreted Lerner and Loewe's famous 1947 musical.

Skillful construction of sets, full use of Belleville High School's auditorium's magnificent stage lights, and authentic costumes created an atmosphere of mystery and romance for a delightful evening of entertainment.

Those who missed last week's performances have an opportunity to see the show this week on Thursday, May 20, and Friday, May 21.

Reserved-seat tickets at $1.50 and $1 are on sale at the auditorium box office each week day from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m., and also before each performance.

Past president Ted Hooten, a former member who was president of the club in 1950, also attended with his wife, Maybelle, and coming in from Milan was another former member and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. E.J. Ciesielski.

On hand to greet the group of 60 were Kiwanis president Bert Smith and his wife, Lee; first vice-president Don White and his wife, Avis; and second vice-president, Don Meyer with his wife, Jean.

Members of the board of directors attending with their wives were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kaulitz, Dr. and Mrs. James Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Art Hill (He was prez in 1955); Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchinson, and the incoming second vice-president, Clyde (Bud) Stapleton, and his wife, Frances.

Kenn Daniels who held the gavel in 1968 handled the introductions at dinner with Bert Smith adding his thanks to Manley Baldwin and his committee of past presidents who planned the dinner-dance.

Other past presidents, who helped guide the club to its quarter-century mark, attending with their wives were 1954's Bill Burhop with his wife, Jeanette; and 1958's J.D. Clark with his wife, Marian.

Still others were Mrs. Tom Hopka, representing her husband, 1960's president, who was in Europe on business; Irv and Vivian Wallace, 1961; Manley and Gladys Baldwin, 1964; Gerry and Helen Miller, 1965; and Ed and Audrey Stoelton, 1969.

Following dinner, as couples took their turn dancing to a three-piece combo, one couldn't help but observe the distaff side's variety of costumes for the evening.

Certainly adding their nod of approval to today's 'doing your own thing', the ladies choice of attire included a number of dressy pant dresses; several in casual long gowns (Val Schmidt complimenting her blue print gown with a matching tie for hubby, Kenn); and many in very pretty cocktail dresses. IF there were any hot pants on the scene, they were very discreetly hidden.

That pretty Ina Lunde (very sharp in her black cocktail frock with matching sweater) and her dapper mate, Fred, were all aglow over their upcoming trip to the Kiwanis Convention in San Francisco next month. Not only will they attend the doings in that famous port but they'll continue onto Hawaii for another vacation - ALL marking a very special event for the popular couple - their golden wedding anniversary! Would you believe it?

Meat makes jobs

Latest figures show that today 3 out of 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture. The meat and poultry industry, employing 309,000 persons and with a $2 billion payroll, is the largest segment of agriculture.

The wood rat is also known as the trade rat for a reason. It will steal any kind of shiny object and leave in its place a rock or some other trivial item as renumeration.

Children are individuals despite order of birth

Most parents — understandably — go over board with their first child says Jeanne Brown, child development specialist for Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service. The first-time parent is generally more indulgent, more anxious and more protective than with later children.

Mrs. Brown points out that parents may communicate anxiety to the first-born due to their lack of experience. Restrictions and punishment seem harsher for the eldest. Fathers, in particular, are more authoritative with them. Perhaps in the hope of perpetuating his talents or satisfying his frustrations, the father focuses more of his attention on the first son.

Mothers are more sure of their competence when later children are born, and are generally most closely involved with the youngest.

Though most parents deny or don't realize it, they may play favorites. Mrs. Brown offers some suggestions for treating all children as individuals and minimizing the effects of favoritism:

— Prepare the first child for the birth of a second one. Try not to become totally preoccupied with the newcomer. Point out the advantages that your oldest has over his little brother or sister. For instance, the older child is stronger and can protect the baby. Let him hold the baby and help care for it. When visitors come, include him in the group. Be prepared to give the first child extra attention, particularly if he is five years or younger.

— Don't overburden the oldest child with chores and responsibilities. If he's bossy with his brothers, set firm limits. Encourage the older child to join clubs where he can express himself.

— Avoid babying the youngest child. Dress him appropriately for his age. Make clear that he can't get away with misbehavior. Take him into the family circle gradually and with no privileges beyond those appropriate for his age level.

— Draw out the positive potentials of the middle child. If big brother excels in the school band, point out that the middle child is an ace short stop.

— Above all, remember that each child is an individual. Within the network of family relations, every child should be given a chance to work out his own identity.

When a woman sweeps the floor with a straw broom, she strokes away from herself, usually. But a man generally strokes toward himself. Ever notice that? ... Am still attempting to verify the claim that police officers rank No. 2 on that list of professional men most apt to commit suicide ... By starting from one point or another in Arkansas, you can get to each of the six neighboring states by going due south. Odd.

When a young lady displays herself before her gentleman friend with curlers in her hair and cold cream on her face, she's obviously trying to bid the old boy goodbye. Or so it's commonly believed. But that's wrong, says our Love and War man. What she's actually saying, he contends, is "Look, this is the way I really am. I mean business. So if you like me, let's talk matrimony. I don't have any more time to play around." The foregoing is offered for the enlightenment of the puzzled bachelor. I mean, he who can't figure out what his girlfriend is up to. That is, when she shows up such a mess.

Wish I had a reader in Nogales, Ariz. Would ask him if it's still illegal there, as once it was, to wear suspenders ... numerous biblical scholars contend Christ did not die on the Cross, but on a great stake. Is that right? . . . Who was that wise soul who said, "Life is a measure to be filled; not a cup to be drained? ... The horses of old Egypt used to wear socks. In Rome, they wore sandals. In Japan, straw slippers.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 2) Carry through with duties you have promised to those dwelling with you and have more harmony in the future. Any changes you make at home should be of a permanent nature. Don't start any arguments.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go to the barber or beautician that you like best and make yourself more charming and make an excellent impression on others. Enjoy the social pleasures that most appeal to you. Avoid unreliable company.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talking over your practical affairs with kin brings fine suggestions and ideas that had not ocurred to you. Plan how to add to present security. Social life in the evening brings benefits and advice from others.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contacting key persons in your life is wise now since you can get much accomplished through discussions Give others the benefit of your past experience. Avoid arguments.

If your child is born today ... he or she will be one of those charming young people who understands the importance of being practical but will not discount the imaginative and intuitive side of life in general. A fine combination for work in professions that require imaginative projects is in this chart with much success. The work your progeny will do could be done at home at times, and most artistically as well. Some religion early.

Cory Peruvian partner sends friends package

By BEVERLY McANALLY

There's package on its way from Peru to the boys and girls at Cory Elementary School on Smith Rd. Included in it will be drawings, photographs and a "chullo" or knitted cap like those worn by people all through the Andes of Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia.

It's coming from Jan Rus, Peace Corps volunteer, who is coordinating a partnership school project between Cory PTA and the people of Camacani, Peru. Last month Rus sent six colorful posters that have been on display at the school.

In a letter received last week, he told about progress on the new school additions which has been accelerated with the help of the Peruvian Government.

The school will now contain five rooms and will serve as a pilot school for educational reforms that will add kindergarten to the usual primary grades.

The motive for expanding the curriculum to include kindergarten, Rus said, is that the children of Camacani learn Spanish as a second language, and all classes are taught in Spanish. Their native language, which is spoken in their homes, is Aymara, an Indian dialect.

So, by introducing Spanish in kindergarten, they will be reaching children at the youngest possible age to give them enough Spanish to get more from their regular schooling.

Children, Rus said, by the age of fourteen and often younger, are already working, leaving few enough years to transmit the education and culture of Peru, without trying to it in a foreign language. "Asi es," he said. "That's how it is."

Not everything progresses in such a round-about way, however. He tells about an incident that recently occurred after they had purchased materials to complete the roofs of two of the rooms. On Friday, Rus said, "I told everyone we'd see each other again early Monday to start work." On Sunday afternoon he passed the school to find 45 men working and the roof finished.

"We celebrated a little and I figured that was about as good a demonstration of interest as anyone could have asked."

Students go camping

More than 200 students from the sixth grades at Beverly, Gordonier and Mt. Pleasant Elementary Schools are participating in a school camping program approved by the Romulus Board of Education.

The program is being conducted during the last three weeks of May, Assistant School Superintendent William E. Jakad reported.

The camp is located on Skinner Lake near Lapeer and is leased from the Detroit Baptists.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

As Memorial Day approaches, the words of William E. Gladstone come to mind. He was the brilliant British political figure, 4 times Prime Minister who died in 1898 ... "Show me the manner in which a nation cares for its dead, and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender mercies of its people, their respect for the laws of the land and their loyalty to high ideals".

His words have special significance on our American scene. While Memorial Day is observed and all our dead are honored in every town and village, special attention is always centered on Arlington National Cemetery, our nation's Memorial shrine. Arlington National Cemetery occupies what was once the family estate of Mrs. Robert E. Lee ... Robert E. Lee, as you know, was the Commanding General of the CONFEDERATE armies. This chosen location is proof positive of American tender mercies with loyalty to high ideals.

In next week's thought you will read about the tomb of America's Unknown Soldier. It will be interesting. Don't miss it

Taxes stay level in city this year

Property taxes in the City of Belleville will remain the same next year, Mayor Royce E. Smith and Council reported Monday.

The current city property tax levy is 13 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation or 8.04 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

The mayor disclosed that the city's general operating budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is $153,200, an increase of $3,975 over the 1970-71 budget of $149,225.

The new budget prepared Monday night provides for a seven percent salary boost for all eight city employes, $12,000 for improvements on High St. and $5,000 to replace a 1963 dump truck.

This is the third year that city residents have not been assessed a property tax increase, the mayor reported. Two years ago, the tax rate of 15 mills was reduced to 13 mills, he said.

He attributed the lack of tax boost to increased property valuations and new building in the city.

A public hearing will be held on the new proposed budget June 7 at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers, located in the Municipal Building, 6 Main St.

Bids taken

Belleville City Council has approved the low bid of Heininger Chevrolet, Inc., of 498 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville, submitted for city purchase of a new police car.

The firm's bid, the lowest of three received was $2,884.96.
